Symposium Venue :

New Delhi, the capital of India, is also a city of great historical importance. The city has a blend of both ancient and modern architecture. The city has lived through wars and resurrection, repeatedly rising from the ashes. Cradling civilizations since times immemorial Delhi goes back thousands of years into time. The city offers several tourist attractions and is an excellent base for visiting world famous Taj Mahal, Palaces in Rajasthan and the Himalayas.

New Delhi is directly connected by air to all the major cities of the world. Besides, the city is well connected to all parts of India by air, rail and road. The climate during mid October is mild and very pleasant with a temperature ranging from ~20 to 31 degree celsius. During this period the city wears a colorful and festive look with blooming flowers and celebrations of several festivals.

Visa to India:

All visitors to India require a visa. Please contact the Indian Embassy/Consulate in your region. Special letters of invitation for visa applications can be provided upon request from the secretariat.
